

Deborah J. Carter

Jazz Vocalist

"Deborah J. Carter is the epitome of a world class jazz singer"

- Mark Turner, All About Jazz

"One of the most significant American-born jazz singers based in Europe. Not only does she have a very appealing voice and a thorough understanding of jazz, but her enthusiasm is infectious."

- Scott Yanow, renowned jazz writer

"Deborah is one of the hardest swinging vocalists I have heard."

- Greg Carroll, CEO American Jazz Museum

Besides working with her own group in concerts and festivals from Spain to Taiwan to Colombia, Deborah also loves to sing the great jazz classics as a guest soloist with groups including among others: the world famous Metropole Orchestra, the Frankfurt Radio Symphony Orchestra, Sedavi Latin Jazz Big Band (with Mike Mossman, arranger for Tito Puente), the Berlin Jazz Orchestra, HRT Jazz Orchestra (Croatian Radio), The Orchestra and Bigband of the German Opera, Berlin.

Deborah grew up in Hawaii and Okinawa, and studied at Berklee, USA. Having spent many years in Spain, she now resides in Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Deborah J. Carter is available worldwide for concerts, tours and masterclasses.
